Red Parliament Okays Cutback as Expected

By STANLEY JOHNSON
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Parliament today unanimously approved Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan to cut 1,200,000 men from the Soviet armed forces and rely on nuclear age weapons to keep up the nation's military strength.

'Spokesmen appealed' to the parliaments of all other nations of the world to follow the Soviet example. Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko specifically mentioned the Western Big Three.

The ratification came immediately after Khrushchev, who had listened to the discussion, made a final call for adoption of the resolution on his proposal. The 1,300 delegates gave him clamorous applause.

Khrushchev had told them Thursday that the one-third cut in military manpower would not affect the country's defense, which he said would be maintained at top efficiency by the increasing perfection of atomic, hydrogen and rocket weapons.

The Premier leaned forcefully on the rostrum, one hand grasping each edge, as he said: "All the people who spoke on my report and on the draft law expressed their approval."

"Allow me to express my thanks on behalf of the Central Committee and the Council of Ministers for the trust they have placed in the central committee and the council of ministers," he said. "I ask you to approve this resolution."

The call to all the world's parliaments was issued by Deputy Premier Mikhail Suslov and unanimously approved by a joint vote of both houses.

The session of the Supreme Soviet then adjourned without taking up any other business.

Gromyko and others addressed the 1,300 deputies of the Soviet Parliament as it moved methodically toward unanimous adoption of Khrushchev's proposal to top 1,200,000 men from the Soviet armed forces in the next year or two and rely on rocket-age weapons to take up the slack.

Gromyko said he hoped the action of Parliament in voting the reduction will influence lawmakers of the United States, Britain and France to do likewise. He suggested "some practical action" in reply.

Airliner Crash Which Killed 34 Persons Is Blamed on a Passenger Bent on Suicide

$3,120 Judgment
Awarded at Conway

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—A $3,120 judgment has been returned by a jury here against the Rev. W. Neill Hart of Camden as the result of an automobile accident near Conway last September.

Seventeen-year-old Betty Edwards was driving the Mayflower and his family had sued Dr. Hart, superintendent of the Camden District of the Methodist Church, for a total of $18,000.

The subcommittee heard testimony that insurance totaling nearly $900,000 had been issued since last April on the life of one of the crash victims.

He was named as Julian Andrew Frank, 32-year-old Westport, Conn., lawyer. He died with 33 others when a National Airlines plane plunged to earth near Bolivia, N.C., while en route from New York to Miami.

Oscar Bakke, chief of the Civil Aeronautics Board's safety division, testified about the insurance. Bakke also described other evidence found by CAB investigators which Monroey said made clear the grim story of what had happened.

"I am convinced the explosion of a bomb of some sort was the cause of this disaster," Monroey announced.

"It seems pretty pat that this bomb was carried into the washroom in the plane and set off deliberately."

"The evidence is very strong that it was a case of suicide by bombing."

Bakke made no such direct statement, saying the CAB is reserving an official verdict until further investigation is completed. But he said some of the evidence points to a possible bomb explosion and said if that was the case, "it will be discovered and the cause precisely established."

Mystery had shrouded exact cause of the disaster since the plane literally fell apart in the air and plunged to earth.

Bodies of most of the victims—the last was found Thursday—were located in the vicinity of Bolivia, N.C.

Frank's body was found last Saturday 16 miles away, on the beach near Ft. Fisher, N.C., with some of the wreckage. Bakke said Frank could have been blown through the side of the plane by an explosion.

Bakke said Frank's body had been deeply pierced by metal and wood fragments, and had been mutilated in a manner far different from the injuries suffered by all of the other victims. Such piercing of the body with flying fragments frequently occurs in explosions.

But when the ABC began working on the case, it could find no legal basis for cancelling the permit. Yesterday it delayed a decision on the matter for two weeks.

"We have to find out where we stand legally," ABC's acting director Ted Christy said. "There has been no suggestion of a violation by the permit holder upon which to base a revocation."

The citizens committee argued that people in south Logan County didn't want a beer outlet in the area. The permit was issued in the only wet area in the southern end of the county.

But when the ABC began working on the case, it could find no legal basis for cancelling the permit. Yesterday it delayed a decision on the matter for two weeks.

Icy Storm Ties Up Traffic in New York State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An ice storm tied up traffic and closed schools in some areas in New York State today, while wintry winds, accompanied by snow and cold whistled into the Mid-west.

The ice storm swept through the south central section of New York, including the Hudson and Mohawk valleys and northward. Two persons were killed when an automobile skidded on an icy road near Syracuse.

Forecasters predicted 4 to 8 inches of snow, or more, for the eastern half of New York state by nightfall.

Connecticut reported a freezing rain with icy highways. Many traffic accidents due to skidding vehicles were reported. Light snow by late afternoon or early evening was forecast for Maine.

Snow storms and freezing rains closed schools in Michigan for the second time in a week. Saginaw ordered all schools closed at noon today, while many rural schools were closed.

The Upper Peninsula of Michigan recorded a 17-degree drop to 18 above. Planes were grounded at Flint, Muskegon and Saginaw.

Thirty vehicles collided in a series of accidents on the Jersey turnpike between Newark and New York today. Six persons were injured and north-and-south commuter traffic was snarled.

And, in southern Wisconsin a sneak snowstorm blocked many roads. About 5 inches of snow fell in Milwaukee. Motorists were cautioned to remain off the streets. No traffic moved in Janesville, Wis., and roads south of Madison were blocked.

A cold wave moved into Iowa in the wake of a snowstorm which practically paralyzed highway travel in some sections. Northern winds up to 50 miles an hour whipped snow into drifts and created near-blizzard conditions in some areas, especially in the west central portions of Iowa. The greatest amount of new snow reported as 12 inches at Fort Dodge and 10 inches at Dubuque.

Many schools in scattered areas of Iowa were closed today. Forecasters said Saturday morning's temperature readings were expected to plunge to 16 below zero in northwestern Iowa.

Bakke said Frank's body had been deeply pierced by metal and wood fragments, and had been mutilated in a manner far different from the injuries suffered by all of the other victims. Such piercing of the body with flying fragments frequently occurs in explosions.

Governor Speaks Here Feb. 2

The National Guard Armory building (above) will be the scene of Governor Orval E. Faubus' first major address in Hope on the night of February 2 when he addresses the annual membership meeting and banquet of Hope Chamber of Commerce.

Five hundred tickets went on sale today at the chamber of commerce office and may be purchased at a first come, first served basis, at $2.50 per person. All members of the chamber of commerce are urged to purchase their tickets early as demand is expected to be heavy.

Industrial expansion of Arkansas will be the theme of the governor's talk in Hope, and it will follow closely after the special session of the legislature which has been called for next Tuesday to provide a method of financing $1.3 million rubber company industry for Batesville.

Two primary measures are included in the special session call, one which will enable cities and counties to issue tax exempt revenue bonds which can be paid off by using lease-rentals on plant facilities. The other measure provides for compacts between cities and counties which want to go together and finance industries in their areas.

Fatal Whipping Brings Sentence

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A sentence of five years in the state prison was imposed Thursday on Mrs. Edna Agnes Jones, convicted of second degree murder for the fatal whipping of a 3-year-old boy.

Mrs. Jones is 42 and is expecting her seventh child in June. She and her husband, Orval, moved to the San Diego area from Denton, Ark., eight years ago.

The victim was Keith Stone. Mrs. Jones took care of Keith and a brother in her home while their mother worked. The boys' father is James Stone, a policeman at Sikeston, Mo.

The session has been planned primarily to provide a new method of financing industrial expansion in the state.

As Faubus had said previously, three of the specific recommendations will deal with that subject. Besides these, the governor said he would ask an amendment to the controversial egg marketing law and appropriations for soil conservation, teacher retirement, the Civil Air Patrol, the Southern Governors' Conference and expenses of the special session.

He also will ask the Legislature to authorize a second chancellor for the 4th Chancery District, which is composed of Arkansas, Cleveland, Jefferson and Lincoln counties.

Faubus disclosed for the first time that he would ask the Legislature to authorize limited state purchase of new type tax-exempt revenue bonds which cities and counties would be permitted to issue to aid industries.

He said when he announced the special session Wednesday that a third item in the industrial financing agenda would be an amendment to the original financing act of 1955.

This proposed amendment, which he detailed today, would permit the state to own up to two million dollars worth of the tax-free bonds.

The state could not buy more than $50,000 of any one issue. He announced the bond proposal itself Wednesday.

Faubus said he would recommend modification of the 1959 egg marketing act to provide that where a producer sells direct to a retailer and the retailer in turn sells direct to a consumer, grading provisions of the law would not apply.

He said that only about two percent of the eggs sold in Arkansas would be affected by the proposed amendment.

Faubus will ask the Legislature to appropriate $5,500 for the Civil Air Patrol for remainder of this fiscal year and $11,000 for next fiscal year.

The governor vetoed that the 1959 appropriation and commended today "that was my error." He has provided the CAP with emergency funds.

Red Parliament

Iluminarian Parliament's President, declared the Soviet move should induce Parliament members of all nations to press for similar decisions by their governments.

There was speculation in diplomatic circles and among the Soviets themselves about the "fantastic new weapon" Khrushchev spoke about Thursday.

There were no further details. "People here also were asking one another when the Soviet Union's big new space rocket will be fired into the Central Pacific target area."

Today marks the first day of a month-long period during which the Soviet Union says the tests will be held.

Interest was heightened when Ivan Vasilievich Spiridonov, first secretary of the Leningrad Oblast Committee of the Communist party and one of the party's top stars, called for adoption of the proposal to slash the Soviet's armed forces by 1,200,000 men.

He said the cut "will not weaken in any way the Soviet Union's striking power since this is chiefly achieved by modern weapons."

Khrushchev's disarmament plan was being trumpeted as a "new great peace move."

The official news agency Tass said the plan to cut the armed forces was cheered throughout the Soviet Union and prompted an "enormous political resonance" throughout the world.

At the same time, Tass said, it "caught the United States unaware and placed it in an embarrassing position before world opinion which welcomes the new concrete and peaceful initiative of for remainder of the fiscal year, and $75,000 for next.

Faubus vetoed the 1959 appropriation because he feared the money wouldn't be available.

The proposed teacher retirement appropriation was described as a "formality." Money comes from the Teacher Retirement Fund, but must be appropriated by the Legislature.

Faubus said the amount needed had been underestimated and for that reason a supplemental appropriation was needed.

He didn't mention any sum.

The governor had announced previously that a $30,000 appropriation would be sought for entertaining the Southern Governors' Conference in Arkansas next fall.

The Legislature will set amount to appropriate for its expense.

Faubus and his aides deflected the legislative agenda yesterday.

They also sent out telegrams officially informing legislators of the special session, which will be the third called by Faubus since he first became governor five years ago.

Dillon spoke to a ministerial meeting of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC), which the new organization will replace and strengthen.

The United States now participates on a consultative basis, along with Canada, in OEEC discussions.

The conference also has before it a U. S. proposal for an interim coordinating organization of nations willing to spend or already spending funds in foreign aid until the larger group can be organized.

To Ask $30,000 for Governors Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval F. Faubus said today he would ask the Legislature at its special session next week to appropriate $30,000 for the Southern Governors' Conference in Arkansas next fall.

The site has not been officially announced, but it is expected to be Hot Springs.

Faubus said yesterday he would ask an appropriation for the conference but he didn't set any sum until today.

Faubus quoted Gov. Luther Hodges of South Carolina, who was host to the conference last year, as saying $50,000 was approximate cost to his state.

Kennedy Backers Plan Campaign

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—A door-to-door personal contact type of campaign will be conducted by New Hampshire by supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The senator's younger brother, Robert, disclosed that Tuesday night at an organizational meeting in Manchester with 150 Democratic leaders. He said the Massachusetts senator could not personally campaign intensively in New Hampshire and would depend on Granite State supporters.

There were no details on the "fantastic" weapon that Khrushchev spoke about.

(American scientist Dr. Robert L. Taylor said in Washington that the Soviets may be working on plans to orbit hydrogen bombs around the earth as weapon satellites which could be aimed down on the enemy at will.)

Expert on atomic energy said such missiles could be developed during this decade since they would be merely an extension of present ballistic missiles capabilities.

Tass criticized the U. S. State Department note for calling on the Soviet Union to back up the military cuts by joining in an international pact for controlled disarmament.

The Soviet agency said the statement "attempts to cover up with various public relations to make reciprocal practical disarmament steps."

Khrushchev boasted "Today that the Soviet Union is the world's strongest military nation and can rely on a frightening arsenal of nuclear weapons and rockets for major defense."

Khrushchev said the 1,200,000 men to be disbanded from the armed forces—about one-third of Soviet strength—will be quickly absorbed into the Soviet economy.

Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet deputy chief of labor, reported today that "manpower is in high demand everywhere" in the Soviet Union.

Would Seize Plants to Avert Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) and George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) today introduced a bill to permit government seizure of plants to avert strikes that would endanger the national health or safety.

They said the measure is designed to avert economic disruptions such as that caused by the just settled steel strike.

In a statement Javits and Aiken said their bill would authorize the President first to appoint a public fact finding board to recommend terms of settlement of any labor dispute threatening to cause a national emergency.

If that step should fail, the President would be empowered to direct the attorney general to petition the courts to throw the affected facilities into receivership and appoint a special receiver to operate the facilities in the name of the government.

Javits and Aiken said the measure would leave the Taft-Hartley Act procedures available as an alternative. The steel strike was settled while the men were back at work under an 80-day T-H law injunction. Without a settlement they would have been free to strike again Jan. 26.

Man Acquitted of Ft. Smith Slaying

FORT SMITH (AP)—Ora Virgil Earlywine, 58, has been acquitted by a Sebastian Circuit Court jury which tried him for the murder of Bill Derr, 64, last Nov. 17.

The jury deliberated one hour and 10 minutes before returning a verdict of innocent in the two-day trial.

Earlywine, the only defense witness, testified he saw another man beating Derr the night he was killed. The man, John Bowman, testified earlier he was nowhere near the riverside shack Earlywine and Derr shared on the night of the slaying.

The state contended Earlywine and Derr fought over a woman, Francine Maxine Ferguson, about 40.

The average American uses about six pounds of salt annually to season his food.

Kennedy Tells Kind of President Needed

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The next four years will require a president capable of acting as commander in chief of the grand alliance, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said today.

The people and the times will demand "not merely a bookkeeper who feels that his work is done when the numbers on the balance sheet come out even," Kennedy said in a speech for the National Press Club.

Kennedy, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, bypassed specific problems and talked about what he called the central issue of the campaign—the presidency itself.

He said the nation has had what he called a "detached, limited concept of the presidency" under President Eisenhower.

During the past eight years, Kennedy said, "our needs and hopes have been eloquently stated but the initiative and follow-through have too often been left to others. And too often his own objectives have been lost by the President's failure to override objections from within his own party, in the Congress or even in his Cabinet."

News Briefs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—There is a definite trend toward specialization in the legal profession, an Arkansas Bar Assn. meeting was told today.

Willis B. Smith of Texarkana, president of the association, said the time may come when lawyers will be listed in directories under specialized headings, just as physicians and surgeons are now.

Smith told the eighth annual mid-year meeting of the association that he believes specialization is an advantage to clients.

Trying to Get Dupont to Sell GM Holdings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department today announced a continued effort to force E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co. to divest itself of its stockholdings in General Motors Corp.

The department filed notice of appeal to the Supreme Court from a judgment of the Federal District Court at Chicago that Du Pont could properly retain ownership of the GM stock provided Du Pont surrendered the voting rights to individual Du Pont stockholders.

These holdings are valued at more than three billion dollars. The federal government has sought since 1949 to force Du Pont to give up this stock on the grounds that the big holding is a violation of the antitrust laws.

After two trials, the first lost outright by the government, Chicago Federal District Judge Walter J. La Buy entered a judgment against Du Pont and GM last Nov. 17.

However, Judge La Buy held that under present tax laws, any forced sale of the GM stock would channel a big share of the profits into the U. S. Treasury and would be unnecessarily harsh and punitive.

The Chicago court said the Du Pont Co. could continue to own the stock and collect the GM dividends, but must transfer the voting rights to its stockholders, including members of the Du Pont family of Wilmington, Del.

It is this decision which the Justice Department now proposes to take to the Supreme Court.

DOROTHY DIX Husband's Love Cools Wife's Heart Breaking

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Last night my husband told me he didn't love me and that it's quite a while since he has. I am ready to kill myself. He is 23 years old and I am 17. We have been married nine months last night I tried to be a good wife and thought I succeeded but somewhere my marriage has failed. I didn't send a self-addressed envelope because my husband would read the letter. Please answer in the paper before it is too late—Johanna e

Dear Johanna: It is your husband, not you, who has failed. See this present unhappy experience for what it is—a test of character. Stand up to the challenge. If your husband still wants to call it a day—that's that. There's nothing so cold as warm-over love.

You are very young. Don't close the door on life. Who knows what wonderful, exciting, beautiful things lie ahead for you? To talk of killing yourself is to talk as a weakling. Be strong. Life's like a Spanish inn. You find in it what you take to it.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am a bachelor and in love with a widow who says he loves me. We live in different towns. I spend two days a week about 50 miles from where she lives. All the past she has come to Memphis to visit me when I am there. I pay her bus or train fare. I have also gone to visit her. She will say she is coming then does not come or call. It happened again yesterday. She agrees that it isn't right but she keeps on doing it.

Now for her side: She works night and her daughter is sick, which naturally keeps her upset, yet it wouldn't take her five minutes to call me. Isn't it very rude to promise to meet or call me at a certain time, then disregard the promise? Do you think she has lost interest in me? E.R.

Dear E.R.: Yes. Actions speak louder than words.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Is a godmother obligated to buy the baby's christening clothing?—Virginia

Dear Virginia: The heart, not convention, rules in this case. Unless the baby's parents are related to you, or close friends, it would settle for a silver mug or spoon.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX.

Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)

Truman Idea Pushed Aside by President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower brushed aside today a suggestion by former President Harry S. Truman that he should take democratic advisers to the Big Four summit meeting in Paris next May.

He told a news conference he thought it had been a practice in the past to take representatives of the opposition party to a big international meeting when a treaty was to be signed. The way he said this gave many of his hearers the impression that he meant they were customarily taken along only when a treaty was envisioned.

As prospects for the Paris meeting now stand, it is not expected to produce a treaty. Its task rather is expected to be to produce long-level guidance for further specific negotiations on such matters as disarmament. Those negotiations could conceivably lead to treaties if they resulted in East-West agreement on major issues.

Eisenhower said he is not the least bit disturbed about the effect of the Soviet missile power on summit negotiations.

He said he believes in the military power of the United States. He made clear he is confident that this power is sufficient to support this country's foreign policy and prevent it from being pushed around by any other nation.

The President expressed these views after being told that some critics claim he will be at a disadvantage in negotiating with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev because the United States is "second best in the missile field."

Eisenhower said he wanted to assure his questioner that he is not frightened.

Jennings Wasn't Squealer on Oklahoma Team

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bill Jennings didn't furnish the tip that brought football probation for the University of Oklahoma, Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said Thursday.

Byers said a confidential source not connected with any intercollegiate institution furnished the information that led to disclosure of a recruiting fund that caused NCAA action.

Jennings, now coach at the University of Nebraska, was an assistant to Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma at the time of the improper recruiting payments and had been accused of squealing on his old boss. Jennings has consistently denied he tipped off the NCAA but said he had reluctantly testified when called in by NCAA officials.

Byers did not name the informant Thursday but made it plain the man was not Jennings. He referred to the informant only as "John Doe."

Earlier Thursday, the Lincoln (Nebr.) Journal quoted Byers in a copyrighted story as saying the informant was a man who lives in western Texas. The Topeka (Kan.) Capital reported the same information a day earlier but did not give the source of its information.

Hawks Troubled by Eastern Loop Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Hawks are leading the National Basketball Association's Western Division by eight games, but you would never guess it by glancing at their record against Eastern Division clubs.

The Hawks' overall record is 22-18. Against Eastern teams it is 10-12. They dropped their third in as many nights to an Eastern team Thursday night when Syracuse broke a 111-111 deadlock with eight points in the last two minutes and 44 seconds for a 110-112 victory.

A Western representative also was beaten in the only other game when New York turned back the Lakers at Minneapolis 131-126.

Hurricanes Play Just Right to Win Games

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Miami (Fla.) Hurricanes, triggered by a little guy from Brooklyn and an even smaller fella from Indiana, aren't impressing anyone too much in college basketball these days.

They just play well enough to win.

The Hurricanes won their 14th in 15 games Thursday night—and again it was the season-worn Miami formula that did it although the opponent was seven-times beaten Florida. Five points in overtime by the little Indiana fella 5-6 Dick Hickox of Port Wayne, gave Miami a 70-65 victory.

RELIGION AT THE TOP
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
How about religion at the top in this country? "Top," in this instance, being the nation's capital, the magazine NEWSWEEK some time ago had a fairly long and detailed article on party-giving and party-going in Washington. One received the impression that this social, and in some respects antisocial, partying was quite a disproportionate aspect to what surely ought to be a supreme factor of the national capital—to set a good example to the rest of the country and to put the interests and welfare of the country above all else.

Basically, in the nature of the partying and the strange rivalry of wealthy women for who could have the biggest and best and the greatest social prestige in guests, the contrast could hardly be greater than with the vast mass of people, who from choice or necessity live simple and wholesome lives.

I suppose that the wealthy women, who contribute considerable to welfare in income taxes, have a right to spend their money as they please. But a deeper question is: Is it right? And since I am talking of contrasts, what a contrast there is between women of wealth and privilege who are achieving well deserved fame through their devotion to the country and the common good, where the common party-givers are not achieving much more than notoriety?

There is, however, a more serious aspect. The article stating the Washington caterers heaped "another 100 cocktail parties" in one week, added the fact that liquor consumption in the nation's capital is three times the national average. It is this point to the comment of the Princeton University economist, in his recent book, "The Question of National Defense," that "leaders spend too much time over cocktails to dig their main problems."

Few thoughtful people today, even those strongly temperance-minded, fail to regard the prohibition era as a mistake. I suppose it when the choice was to support it, or not to support it, but I feared the reaction—far worse than I or others could have anticipated—and I regretted the virtual abandonment of other attempts that had been progressively successful in battling intemperance.

But from the "noble experiment" to the liquor-dominated society of today the decline has been tragic, and it has in its possibilities of disaster that few are facing.

It is under these conditions that one might wish, and expect, a better example from the national capital in sobriety, both in habit and thinking, and the manifestation of character and action more in accord with the great principles and teachings of the Old and New Testaments. Instead, much that is happening is a travesty upon the teachings of Jesus and the great Book we solemnly profess to honor.

Former IRS Worker Indicted by U. S.
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Robert Louis Johns, former Internal Revenue Service employee at Hot Springs, was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday for alleged conversion of $7,132.93 of government funds.

The indictment was disclosed today. Johns already was under bond in connection with the alleged embezzlement.
